EMERGE Montgomery Mixer Offers Cosmopolitan Views and Young Professional News

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Montgomery, Alabama (June 30, 2008) It seems the entire town is abuzz with talk about EMERGE Montgomery, and for good reason. On June 24, 2008, the new young professional organization held a mixer at the Capital City Club, bringing over 225 YP's from across the city together to mix, mingle and network.

The event featured hors d'oeuvres, cocktails, music by Lucky Jackson, and a breathtaking view of Montgomery. It also gave those in attendance the opportunity to learn more about what EMERGE Montgomery has to offer local YP's in the 22-40 age group.

"EMERGE Montgomery is a great organization for young professionals that are looking for ways to engage in the community and interact with their peers," said Jennifer Solt, member of the EMERGE Montgomery governing council. "EMERGE has something for everyone in this age bracket – whether they're interested in networking, volunteerism, public policy, professional development, or economic development in the city. EMERGE Montgomery engages its members in activities that keep them connected to Montgomery," Solt said.

EMERGE Montgomery is an initiative of Leadership Montgomery in partnership with the Montgomery Area Chamber of Commerce.
